

To add individuals to a Site membership:

The named site lead will be emailed the site code/link that is used to make the account – much like when you are making an online account.

The lead can either add members themselves or send the link and code to the member of staff to do it themselves.

The screenshot shows the BAMRR website interface. At the top, there is a navigation menu with links for Safety, BAMRR Courses, Conference, News & Events, Resources, and Membership. The Membership link is highlighted in green. Below the navigation, the page title is "Membership Level" with a "change" link. A message box states: "You have selected the Site (Individual users) membership level." Below this, it says: "Your organisation/ group has given you access to our website." and "The [redacted] code has been applied to your order." The price for membership is £0.00 now.

Below the message box, there is a section titled "Account Information" with a link "Already have an account? Log in here". The form contains the following fields:

- + Username
- + Password
- + Confirm Password
- + First Name
